The Orphan's Home.

CYNTHIANA, KY., October 13, 1870.

There is a pleasant little cottage situated five and a half miles East of Cynthiana, and no doubt the passer by will be impressed with the appropriateness of the above honored caption, for God seems to have imprinted upon all its outposts the unmistakable evidence of peace and joy, these insinuations may or may not entitle it to this enviable name, but if we inquire into the private workings of the remarkable home no one will deny its right to the above significant caption, for it has been the Asylum of the outcast, yes, the successful retreat of the weary peniless orphan, because it has made eyes that once wept bitter tears of sorrow and grief, to shed tears of joy and gladness. The first object of charity of this Christian home seems to date back forty years. The happy mother now of twelve happy children, six of each, though two of them have passed beyond the tide, but they were ready for this seemingly dangerous journey. This mother is none other than the worthy Mrs. Wm. McKindry Davis, Esq. And although she can look upon her numerous family of children, and children's children the maternal heart that yearned for them in helpless infancy still faintly beats, though she stands close by the river of death, but the paternal heart that engaged with her in these acts of love and mercy, after suffering his three score and ten, went to receive his reward. His name is none other than the honored Thomas McFarland, of Indian Creek, Harrison county, Ky., whose honored dust can be traced among the many inhabitants of the city of the dead, by the enviable inscription upon the marble slab that marks his quiet resting place, to-wit: "The Orphan's Friend."

Though God added to his name honor and wealth, he returned it all back to God, by bestowing it upon the objects of charity, that God in His providence sent to him. He realized the saying, "Blessed are they that consider the Poor." And now Major if you will turn to the files of your excellent paper, say eighteen years ago, you will find a notice of six young hearts who launched themselves from this humble cottage, transported to the favored land of nuptial. One of them is known to your many readers by the signature of Indian Creek, Esq., and his Christian wife is another of that happy crew, who are now the proprietors of the Orphan's retreat. There is something very remarkable about this thronged wedding three couple.
Five of them orphan's, four of them brothers and sisters, and three of them cousins. The present propietors of this happy home are two of the five peniless ones above referred to, who united their fortunes together eighteen years ago the 27th of this month, and although God has blessed them with a numerous family they seem not to have forgotten the example of their Christian benefactors, for it appears they have given more Wedding and Infar Dinners to Orphan's than any other house perhaps in the county, for they have sent from their charitable board no less than six orphan's. But the most touching scene connected with this remarkable home, is one that occurred three years ago the first day of last June. Yes, on this memorable day, a tender maid of sixteen summers borne there by some kind Angel unperceived, until she stood before the kind hearted proprietor of the Orphan's sure retreat, and with bitter tears of sorrow and grief flowing from those eyes of jett, she asked only a servant's place in that happy home.

Before him thus she weeping said,
A servant only to be made,
In this the home of those oppressed, A servants place I shall be blessed.

Yes, she was poor, she was unlettered, her earthly inheritance she conveyed from place to place in a tiny kerchief. But she was taken in, she was educated and cared for, and to-day how changed, eyes that once shed bitter tears of sorrow, today her heart sends forth a flowing fountain from those sparkling eyes of joy and gladness. And to-day instead of tattered and rags, she wears the costly bridal robe equal to any of those who once frowned upon her as unworthy their notice. And the youth of her choice is a poor peniless boy, without father, mother, sister or brother, of twenty summers only. O! long and happy may they live.

[From the Houston Telegraph, Sept. 20.

A LEAF FROM CONFEDERATE HISTORY.

Remarkable Career of a Remarkable Craft—Fate of Lieutenant Dixon and his Comrades.

In 1864 the fleet of Admiral Faragut was blockading Mobile, while a heavy land and naval attack was directed against Charleston.

During our long defensive war a great deal of ingenuity had been expended by the Confederates upon torpedoes and torpedo boats.

The most remarkable of these boats was constructed in Mobile by Messrs.
Hundley & McClintock, and launched in 1864; and nothing which has gone down into the sea was more wonderfully and more fearfully contrived to wreak destruction and vengeance upon friend and foe.

She was built of boiler-iron, and impervious to water or air. Her extreme length was about thirty feet, with five or six feet beam and about six feet depth of hold. In general contour she resembled a cigar, sharp at both ends. She was propelled by a screw, the shaft of which ran horizontally along her hold, almost from stem to stern, and seated along it on either side.

The only hatchway was circular, about two feet in diameter, with a low combing around it, which was placed well forward, and when desired could be closed by an iron cap working on hinges and male air tight.

In the forward part of this cap was inserted a clear glass bull's eye, through which the pilot could see.
She was provided with water-tight compartments, by filling or emptying which she would sink or rise, and to enable her to rise instantly her bal-lasting of railroad bars placed on her bottom, outside of her hull, and by means of keys, accessible to her crew, could be detached in a moment, so that she would rise quickly to the surface.

Besides her rudder, which was of the usual form, this vessel was equipped with side paddles or fins, which like those of a fish served to guide it up or down with reference to the surface of the water.

To prepare for action a floating torpedo was secured to her stern by a line more than one hundred feet long, and her crew filled until the boat was in equilibrium, and almost submerged. The hatchway was closed, the men revolved the shaft, the cap or pilot standing under the hatch, steered the boat, regulating at the same time, by the action of her lateral fins, the depth at which she would move.

Her greatest speed did not exceed four knots. She could remain submerged for half an hour, or an hour, without any great inconvenience to her crew—and on one occasion has been known to remain under water two hours, without actual injury to them; although no means were provided for procuring fresh air, and from the moment the hatch was closed, the men fastened in their living tomb inhaled and exhaled continuously the atmosphere which was inclosed with them.

The plan of attack proposed by the inventors was to dive beneath the keel of an enemy's ship, trailing the torpedo after her. Its triggers or sensitive primers would thus press against the ship's bottom, explode the torpedo and inevitably sink the ship.

Not anticipating an early opportunity of using this dangerous vessel against the fleet of Farragut, General Maury sent her by rail to General Beauregard at Charleston, believing the waters of that harbor better suited for her peculiar construction, while in the Ironsides, or some other gigantic ship then attacking Charleston, might be found an object worth the great risk to which her own crew was exposed in any enterprise they might undertake in her.

General Beauregard changed the arrangement of the torpedo by fastening it to the bow. Its front was terminated by a sharp and barbed lance-head, so that when the boat was driven end against a ship's sides, the lance-head would be forced deep into the timbers, below the water line, and would fasten the torpedo firmly against the ship. Then the torpedo-boat would back off and explode it by a lanyard.

General Beauregard's call upon the Confederate fleet for volunteers to man this dangerous craft was promptly answered by Lieutenant Payne, a Virginian, and eight soldiers. They were soon ready for action, the last preparation had been made. The torpedo-boat was lying alongside the steamer from which the crew had embarked; she was submerged till the combing of her hatch alone was visible above the water. Her commander, Payne, was standing in the hatchway, in the act of ordering her to be cast off, when the swell of a passing steamer rolled over her and sunk her instantly, with her eight men, in several fathoms of water.

Lieutenant Payne sprang out of the hatchway as the boat sunk from under him, and he alone was left alive.

In the course of a few days she was raised and again made ready for service. Again Payne volunteered, and eight men with him.

The embarkation for their second attempt was made from Fort Sumter, and as before, all having been made ready, Payne standing at his post in the hatchway, ordered the hawser to be cast off—when the boat careened and sunk instantly. Payne sprang out, and two of the men followed him; the other six went down in the boat and perished.

Again the boat was raised and made ready for action, and her owner, Captain Hundley, took her for an experimental trip into the Stono River, where, after going through her usual evolutions, she dived in deep water, and for hours and for days, the return of poor Hundley and his crew was watched for and looked for in vain. After near a week's search she was found inclining at an angle of forty degrees; her nozzle was driven deep into the soft mud of the bottom. Her crew of nine dead men were standing, sitting, lying about in her hold asphyxiated.— Hundley was standing dead at his post, a candle in one hand, while the other had grown stiff with death in his vain efforts to unclasp the hatch.

Others had been working at the keys of the ballast, but the inclination at which the boat had gone down had jammed the keys so that the men could not cast off the heavy weight which held them down. Their deaths had been hard and lingering.

Again this lateful vessel was made ready for action, and volunteers being called for Lieutenant Dixon, Twenty-first Alabama Volunteers, a native of Mobile, and eight men, volunteered to take her against the enemy.

The new and powerful war ship, Housatonic, was selected for attack; and on a quiet night the bravest crew set out from Charleston, in this terrible, nameless torpedo-boat, that ever manned craft before.

We all know the fate of the Housatonic. Brave Dixon, guided the torpedo fairly against her, the explosion threw up the great war ship's sides, so that she went down with nearly all her crew within two minutes.

The torpedo vessel also disappeared forever from mortal view. Whether she went down with her enemy, or whether she drifted out to sea to bury her gallant dead, was never known, and their fate was left till the great day when the sea shall give up its dead.

But within a few weeks past divers in submarine armor have visited the wreck of the Housatonic, and they have found the little torpedo vessel lying by her huge victim, and within her are the bones of the most devoted and daring men who ever went to war. No forlorn hope or other desperate enterprise of war can furnish the parallel to the courage of Dixon and his comrades. Their names we have not at hand, but they are known and recorded, and we hope to see the honor which is due paid to the great virtue they illustrated.

[Berlin Correspondence N. Y. Tribune.

GERMAN UNION.

Baden and Wurttemberg Willing to Join the North German Union.

If sympathies alone could form and cement a political bond, the union between the North and South would be an accomplished fact; but Germany has not yet succeeded in achieving this long-desired end.
Appreciating the political necessity of a radical change, all parties agree in this conviction, that the first and last result of the present war must be a united Germany; they widely differ, however, as to the way and means of creating it. The fruits of the present harmony between North and South have been so great that even the majority of the strictest State Rights men have given up their former resistance to a more perfect union. Apart from popular predilections and sympathies there are three States with which North Germany has to count and compromise, viz, Baden, Wurttemberg, and Bavaria. Of these the Grand Duchy of Baden has always been and still is a strong advocate of a united Germany, and would have long ago voluntarily entered into the North German Union had it not been that she and Bismarck feared that France would consider this step as a casus belli against Germany. Now that this jealous neighbor is out of harm's way, Baden will not hesitate a moment in her application for admission to the North German Confederation. Then the part of Hesse Darmstadt which lies South of the river Main must and will follow suit as it will be surrounded on three sides by North Germany, and the population of the Grand Duchy has always been in favor of such a step. Thus far Baron Dalwigk, the Minister, a warm admirer of Napoleon, and an inveterate enemy of Bismarck, has been able to defeat, or at least to frustrate, the popular wishes, but after this war he cannot stem the popular current.

In Wurttemberg the former Minister, Varnbuler, who opposes the union, has been removed, and the Government itself has found out that it will serve its best interest by becoming a member of the North German Confederation. It has consequently most politely answered the Prussian invitation to a conference, which is now held at Munich for the purpose of consulting a mutual plan of unification. The great majority of the Wurttemberg people long for an intimate union with the North, and the stronger the bonds are which embrace North and South the more satisfied they will be.

Thus, in fact, the only difficulty lies with Bavaria. This kingdom of about 5,000,000 souls is too small to be powerful and independent and too large to be trilled with. As electorate and in its present form it has always been in arms against the progress and intellectual development of Germany, a strong bulwark ultramontane designs and Polish attacks, and a stipendiary or vassal of France. Bavaria, for the first time in her history, in this war sided with the national cause, and finds her new position not only gratifying, but also very advantageous for her own aggrandizement. The King is a romantic, well-meaning youth of twenty-five years, reads and performs Schiller, preferring, however, the role of Posa to that of bloody Philip and admires Wagner's music of the future, which is best produced at Munich. In the beginning of the war he was disposed to proclaim King William Emperor of Germany, but his Ministers interfered and the music of the future they wish to have performed bears quite a different character. They try to make as much capital as possible out of their participation in the war, and to negotiate with North Germany, as if Bavaria was her peer. In their draft published the other day they do not ask for a confederation even, but for a loose alliance with the North, to be entered into and broken off at will by any of the contracting parties. In short they wish to preserve their state sovereignty with as much anxiety as the State of South Carolina did under Calhoun and his disciples. Thus they insist upon six votes in the council of the North German Confederation, in which Prussia, being five times larger than Bavaria, has only 17 out of 43 in all.
If the other smaller States obtain an increase in their votes in the same ratio, Prussia would only have 17 out of 58 in all, and could at any time be neutralized by an alliance of the smaller States.

Secondly, Bavaria wishes to share the prerogative of the King of Prussia as military chief of the North German Union in nominating members of the War Committee, and thus to take the initiative in all matters appertaining to war. Last, but not least, she asks that all diplomatic negotiations carried on for defensive and offensive purposes, as well as for the conclusion of alliances, be at all times submitted to the members of the Council of the Confederation.
If this demand were accepted it would be impossible to have diplomatic negotiations at all, as the secret could not and probably never could be kept. In short, the whole Bavarian plan is more intended for disunion than for union. It advocates the latter and necessarily creates the former. Instead of entering into the North-German Confederation, and extending it to a German Confederation it wants to have the first dissolved and a new union voted for by the whole people. If this proposition were acceded to, Germany would endanger if not lose her present, however imperfect, constitution, and jeopardize her prospects for a better and more perfect union. All over Germany the Bavarian plan has been sentenced as a stillborn result of State-right illusions and incapacity.
It appears, however, that the Munich gentlemen themselves are about to withdraw their draft, and are willing to treat on other terms. Otherwise it would be unintelligible why Minister Delbruck, President of the Chancellorship of the North German Confederation, and the right hand of Bismarck, has on the invitation of Bavaria, gone to Munich for the purpose of arriving at a clearer basis of negotiations. This conference, in which the Wurttemberg Minister also takes part, is now in session, and its result will be known in a few days.

It is, however, already certain that Delbruck will never admit the dissolution of the North German Confederation, but that he will not treat Bavaria unless she consents to become one of its members.

TRAGEDY IN GEORGETOWN.

Killing of Leonard Maddux.

On Thursday night last a difficulty occurred in Georgetown, Ky., between Preston West and Leonard Maddux, in which the latter was shot and almost instantly killed by the former. The particulars of the unfortunate affair as we learn them, are as follows:

Some eight months ago while West was acting as deputy Marshal, he had occasion to arrest Maddux, when Maddux resisted and shot at him, but West succeeded in arresting him.
Nothing more has ever happened between them until last Thursday night, when West having occasion to go to Barkley & Elgin's drug store, where he met Maddux, who spoke some word to West and at the same time drawing a pistol, when West got out of his way, went home and armed himself. He came back past the drug store in a few minutes afterwards, and observing Maddux, he (West), drew his pistol and fired, hitting Maddux just under the chin in the neck. Mad-dum ran a few yards and fell dead.— West immediately surrendered himself to officer Sinclair, and was lodged in jail. Maddux has long been the terror of Scott county and only a short time since attempted to murder his father and mother, who only escaped him by fleeing to a neighbor's. At the time of his death there were several indictments against him in the Scott Circuit Court.—Lexing-

Important Newspaper Change.

The Hearth and Home, a finely illustrated family journal of a high character, hitherto issued by Messrs.
Pettengill, Bates & Co., has been purchased by Messrs. Orange, Judd & Co., of 345 Broadway, New York, the well-known publishers of the American Agriculturist. Messrs. S. M.
Pettengill & Co., whose great Advertising Agency, established in 1849, is one of the largest and most respectable in the world, find that their extensive business requires their exclusive attention, and they therefore transfer Hearth and Home to the new Publishers, whose long experience and abundant facilities will enable them not only to maintain the past high character of the paper, but to add materially to its value. The new Publishers also announce a reduction of the terms to $3 per year. The change will not at all affect the American Agriculturist, which will continue independently as heretofore. The illustrations and reading matter of the two journals will be furnished from now to the end of 1871 (15 months), at the yearly subscription rate, viz.: the Weekly Hearth and Home, at $3; the Monthly American Agriculturist, $1.50; or the two for $4.

War With China.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—At a Cabinet council held to-day, it was decided that as the Chinese Government had refused to make reparation for the massacres of Tien Tzin, as demanded of it by French representatives, and as the Chinese Government is obviously making preparations for a general war upon foreigners, England must join France in exacting full reparation for these

FOR CONGRESS.
W. E. ARTHUR.
Of Kenton County.

CAMPBELL AND SCHENCK.

Since the triumphant election of Mr. Campbell over Schenck, to Congress, by the Democracy in Ohio, a general proposition is being discussed by the Mongrel Radical crew, to contest his seat, and the seats of three or four other Democrats elected from other States. All the rads have not yet given their consent to be parties to the move. They feel that it is a low-down and contemptible act. Schenck, himself has refused, because his conscience smote him, and because he felt that all self-respect had not left him; but we believe the nigger-hearted rads will force him up to the point for contesting, against his will and wish, against the laws, and against all decency. The Democratic party is growing steadily, and will soon be in a condition to teach these rads a small amount of Constitutional law.

BOSTON AND LAGER BEER.

A Boston Radical whang-doodle, known as Rev. J. D. Fulton, has been creating considerable excitement in Radical circles because he has been guilty of guzzling Beer, and then denying it. In this he is not unlike radicalism anywhere. He has been guilty of two high sins in the eyes of the hypocritical, puritanical, hounds of Boston, the first of which is.

1st. He drank Beer.

2nd. He tried to utter a lie about the matter.

Had he drunk the beer and admitted its truth for reasons of his own, the excitement may never have reached its present status.

Fulton's accuser is one of his own tribe—that adored humbug, Theodore Tilton. In our opinion there is no more truth in the latter than in the former; but when two "seabs" on the body politic, like the two above, fall out, the world at large may expect to hear the truth and history of them, properly and fairly stated. The following was the last put forth by the adorable Theodore. He is a sweet-scented Radical:

Rev. J. D. FULTON—Sir: I have just read with wonder the reports in the New York papers of your remarks to your Boston congregation yesterday, on the issue pending between you and me. These reports, assuming them to be correct, compel me to say, in plain English, that I stand ready to prove:

First—That you did go into a lager beer saloon and drink lager beer after preaching and.

Second—That your narrative of your interview on Saturday last with my informant and myself is as false as your usual or the original charge.

Having threatened me with libel, you now announce the war with the law. This is because you dare not go forward with me. I challenge you to meet me in a court of justice.

(Signed) THEODORE TILTON.

A Lively Horse Thief.

For several days prior to the 19th of October, a young and sprightly fellow, passing under the name of Charles Mitchell, has been sojourning in Harrison and Bourbon counties. We understand that he has advertised in several newspapers of Kentucky, that he wanted to buy a Farm, containing some five or six hundred acres—that he visited this county for the purpose—that he made an offer to Mr. John Lair, for his plantation—and was looking at Mr. G. R. Sharpe's Farm for that purpose—that in playing short game of cards with the boys, for amusement, that he would offer to bet as large sums of money as $30,000, but that no money was ever discovered in his possession. While at Mr. Sharpe's, he said that he lives in New Brunswick, (a Northern English Province,) and that he had just come from Philadelphia, Pa. where he had been attending a Medical School. He is an adroit scoundrel, with a light complexion and was dressed in a black broad cloth coat, light pants and striped felt hat. About 22 years of age. On the 19th inst., he took a bay horse and extra rigging from Mr. Sharpe, and has not been heard from since. The plea to buy a farm was simply an excuse to find the best horse in the county. Mr. S., offers a reward of $150 for the thief and all delivered to him.

REV. WALTER TEARNE.

This gentleman is the Rector of the "Church of the Advent," Protestant Episcopal in this city. We attended service there last Sabbath, and listened to one of the best discourses, it has been our pleasure to have heard delivered in Cynthiana for many years past. His reading is splendid, and agreeable, having a voice with sufficient strength to be heard with ease in any part of the Church, and his qualifications are so ample that one is pleased to otherwise in listening to the Church Liturgy.

His church was decently filled. His discourse was that of a Funeral Sermon upon the death of Gen. R. E. Lee, who it seems was a member of the "Episcopal Church." In his sermon he very properly announced that History had failed to acknowledge our Creator in a proper manner. And we agree with him, that historians have generally failed to place the Creator above the creature. The reason for this can be answered only in the assertion that men who have been our historians have not lived up to their professions—that to all outward appearance and professions for the time being they acknowledged a God and an immortality, but in their writings as well as in their "heart of hearts" they were unbelievers and hypocrites.

While Robert E. Lee, was no historian, he was one of the great men of the Earth, and he never, during his long and eventful career, failed to acknowledge his Creator. He was raised and educated a Christian, and his daily walk and life, was that of a meek and humble follower of the Savior of Sinners. Nothing haughty or ostentatious made up any part of his composition, for the humblest soldier of his army could approach him. The heart of every woman and child, made sad by the loss of a husband or a father, found in the heart of Gen. Lee a sympathetic chord. He was sorrowful at the woe and lamentations brought upon the land by the calamity of war.

But he survived his great battles, and lived to see the cause for which so many had lost their lives, yield to a stronger force.

Mr. T. gave a short biography of Gen. Lee from the time he entered upon manhood's rugged path, up to the time when he gave up his spirit to his Creator.

The discourse was eloquently delivered, and instructive.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

The nominations for Congress in this State are as follows:

Dis. Democratic. Radical.
1—Edw. Crossland. N. R. Black.
2—H. D. McHenry. M. J. Roark.
3—J. H. Lewis. D. R. Carr.
4—W. H. Read. J. M. Fuller.
5—Boyd Winchester. James Speer.
6—Wm. E. Arthur. Thos. Wrightson.
7—James I. Beck. Wm. Brown.
8—G. M. Adams. H. P. Finley.
9—John M. Elice. G. M. Thomas.

The election will be held on Tuesday, November 8, 1870.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

[From the Covington Journal.]

The letter of Hon. Thos. L. Jones announcing his withdrawal from the Congressional race in this District, may be found on the first page of this issue of the Journal.

In taking this step, under the circumstances, Col. Jones has manifested his devotion to principle, and at the same time secured for himself the good opinion and best wishes of all who desire the success of the Democratic party.

In this connection it affords us pleasure to say that a good understanding exists between Col. Jones and Judge Arthur; and we are authorized by the former to say that in case another candidate is not brought out by a regular Convention, he will give his hearty support to Judge Arthur, and if considered necessary canvass the District in his behalf.

[From the Carrollton Democrat.]

We publish a communication from Hon. Thos. L. Jones, in which he announces his withdrawal as a candidate for Congress. This will restore harmony and enable the Democracy of this district to present an unbroken front to its Radical opponents, and insure an easy victory in the coming election. It has been asked here, "Will Judge Arthur, now with draw?" We see no necessity for his doing so. The time for the election is so near that there would scarcely be time to hold another Convention, and were one to be held, it is hard to tell what fresh complications might arise. With many of the friends of Col. Jones, Judge Arthur was second choice, and we think that as the former of these gentlemen is one of the way, they will yield a hearty support to the latter.

Too much praise cannot be awarded Col. Jones for withdrawing. Yet it was what we might have expected from one who has in this, as in other things proved himself to be a rare instance of the politician, who loves his country more than office, and to be a gentleman upon whose shining character no stain of reproach; not even the breath of suspicion can rest.

[From the True Kentuckian.]

Col. T. L. Jones has withdrawn from the contest for Congress, in the Covington District. This is very general in him, and should make his friends in the District and State not seek to drag Judge Arthur down. This is most honorable conduct.

Judge Arthur will be elected by a large majority, and make a representative that the District and State will be proud of.

[From the Paris Citizen.]

Hon. Thos. L. Jones has published a card withdrawing from the contest for Congress in the Sixth District. This insures the election of a Democrat from that District. The course of Col. Jones will commend itself to the Democracy of the entire State, and he will gain far more by it than he could possibly have done by an election to Congress at this time.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS.

THURSDAY, October 20th.

A report has been received in London from Luxembourg, that on the 14th Bazine raised the siege of Thionville and captured 35,000 men and an immense amount of supplies. On the 17th Bazine attacked the Prussians at Courcelles. The fighting lasted all day, and was resumed on the morning of the 18th when the Prussians to the number of 9,000, all that was left of 32,000 the morning before, surrendered. The French force engaged was estimated at 100,000 men. The expected battle at Orleans took place on Tuesday. After six hours' defense of the city the French fled. The Prussians immediately took possession of the place and made enormous levies upon the inhabitants, and did great damage to public and private buildings. Chateaufort was captured on Tuesday night by the Prussians. Bismarck in a dispatch to Baron Gerolt, the Prussian Minister at Washington declares that the object of the German military operations in France is for conquest, but only to secure such a new boundary as is considered indispensable to the better protection of Germany against future invasions by France. A dispatch received at the State Department in Washington, from London, says that the report that terms of peace have been arranged is generally believed.

FRIDAY, October 21st.

A dispatch from Berlin announces that the terms of the capitulation of Metz have been agreed upon at the Prussian headquarters at Versailles between the French General Boyer and King William. The conditions are that Bazine, as the plenipotentiary of the Emperor Napoleon, shall sign a treaty of peace between France and Prussia; Marshal Bazine's army to be disbanded, but to remain at Metz; The Prince Imperial is to ascend the throne of France, and Bazine to be nominated as Regent. A special dispatch from London says there are rumors that negotiations are going on with Bazine for peace. The reports say that after peace is concluded Bazine's army with the released prisoners at Sedan will march on Paris to enforce the terms of peace. The French garrison at Neut Breisch made a successful sortie on Saturday. They killed two hundred Prussians and took thirteen prisoners. The French are reported to have been successful in a recent battle near Paris. No date or particulars are given. Minister Favre has replied to the recent circular of Bismarck in regard to the late peace negotiations. There was an immense demonstration in London last night to express sympathy with the French Republic. At the meeting the speakers denounce King William and the course of the English Government during the war.

SATURDAY, October 22nd.

A correspondent before Metz telegraphs that the negotiations for the surrender of Metz have failed, and that the envoy has returned to the beleaguered town. General Bazine prepared to surrender all his own army on the same terms as the regular garrison of Metz should continue to hold the fortress. General Moltke refused these terms, because the reduced garrison could hold out longer than the entire force. The surrender of Metz is soon expected.

A dispatch from Tours states that General Boyer's mission to King William did not relate to the capitulation of Metz, but was to obtain permission to remove the women and children from that fortress, which request was refused. Biche was invested on Thursday by 8,000 men with heavy guns from Strasburg. Dubouys, who is a delegate from Paris to Tours, reports that on the evening of the 17th the Prussians attacked the redoubts of Haute Brulles, near Fort Irvy, and were repulsed. The next morning the Prussians made another attack, but after three hours' fighting, were again repulsed. Nothing has been heard at Tours of the Army of the Loire or the Prussian movements in the south. It was rumored at Tours that the French had attacked Orleans where the Prussians had left a small garrison. M Thiers has returned to Tours.

MONDAY, October 24th.

Dispatches from London and Tours announce that England, seconded by Italy and Austria, has made proposals to the French and Prussian Governments for an armistice. A Tours dispatch says that "owing to this action of England there are great hopes of peace, and that it is understood the French Government is eager for peace on almost any terms. General Willich has occupied Chartres. An engagement is reported to have taken place in the forest of Heourt in which the Prussians were repulsed with a loss of 100 killed. A dispatch from Besacon states that there was heavy fighting yesterday between Voray and Cussey from nine in the morning until night. The result was not known. Minister Washburne has received permission for one hundred Americans to leave Paris; about three hundred will remain in that city. M. Thiers has not yet gone to Paris. He is waiting for permission from the Prussian authorities.

TUESDAY, October 25th.

It is stated that Russia, not joining England, Austria and Italy in the effort to secure peace, is acting independently and energetically in the same direction. Raimbeau, who saved the Czar's life when an attempt was made to assassinate him in 1867, has just come from Wilhelmshofe to St. Petersburg on a secret mission from Napoleon. An attaché of the Russian legation has left St. Petersburg for Versailles with letters from the Czar to the King of Prussia. Rumors continue to circulate in London to the effect that Bazine and the King have settled upon terms of peace, and that the Empress Eugenie is to act upon the part of France—she being the only representative of a Government recognized by Prussia. A Tours dispatch says an armistice has not yet been concluded, but hope is entertained of peace. The French are surprised at the action of England and many believe the English Cabinet is acting at the suggestion of Prussia. The French journals report that the French garrison which had recently capitulated at Soissons were all shot in the woods near that city. The Prussians who were about to besiege La Ferté St. Aubin have suddenly retreated in the direction of Laon. The Prussians have also evacuated St. Quentin. It is rumored in London that the French have captured and taken into the port of Dunkirk three large German steamers.

WEDNESDAY, October 26th.

The London Times has a dispatch from Berlin which announces that the late negotiations for peace have failed, owing to the persistence of Prussia in demanding a cession of French territory. The London Standard says negotiations are actively going on between Versailles and the Empress Eugenie, at Chiselhurst, with a view to the return of the empress to France to resume the regency and to negotiate for peace. Negotiations for the surrender of Metz are said to continue, but are making slow progress. Bazine ignores the French Provisional Government in his communications. It is stated that the Empress Eugenie denies that she is taking any part in the reported negotiations, and says her only hope is for her son, whose chances she considers will be damaged by the present efforts for peace. The French loan is very popular in London, and large subscriptions have been made to it. The town of Schlestadt capitulated to the Prussians on Sunday, after a severe bombardment. Twenty-four hundred prisoners and one hundred and twenty cannon were included in the capitulation.

MISLER'S HERB BITTERS.

This celebrated tonic and stimulant will restore the digestive organs to a perfectly healthy state. It will thoroughly eradicate all morbid matter from the blood, cleanse the system, and produce the most vigorous action of the different organs of the human body. It is the Great Blood Purifier and Infallible Remedy for Dyspepsia, Cholera, Cramps in the Stomach, Headache resulting from a deranged stomach, and also that harassing disease Sick Headache, Biliousness, &c. The fact that in all parts of the land the medical faculty prescribe MISLER'S HERB BITTERS for their patients who are afflicted with these diseases, should convince the most sceptical that this proprietary compound is a medicine upon which they can rely as absolutely efficacious in curing such diseases as we have enumerated above. Sold by all druggists. Price one dollar per bottle. October 6, 1870—lmo.

A TORPID SYSTEM.

Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, in a strange torpor falls alive on the body and intellect. There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and muscular system seems to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced mind when in a healthy condition.

This state of partial collapse is often the preliminary symptoms of some serious malady. It indicates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus. The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity under the operations of the specific, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the season of depression lasted, becomes once more enjoyable. That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem incredible to those who pin their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to enquire of those who have tested the corrective and absorptive virtues of the Bitters under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true. October 6, 1870—lmo.

Warner's Pile Remedy.

WARNER'S PILE REMEDY has never failed (not even in one case) to cure the very worst cases of Blind, Itching or Bleeding Piles. Those who are afflicted should immediately call on their druggist and get WARNER'S PILE REMEDY. It is expressly adapted for Piles, and is not recommended to cure any other disease. It has cured many cases of over thirty years standing. Price One Dollar. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Dyspepsia.

WARNER'S DYSPEPSIA TONIC is prepared expressly for Dyspepsia and those suffering with habitual Costiveness. It is a slightly stimulating tonic and a splendid appetizer; it strengthens the stomach and restores the digestive organs to their healthy state. Weak, nervous and dyspeptic persons should use WARNER'S DYSPEPSIA TONIC. For sale by druggists. Price One Dollar.

Cough no More.

WARNER'S COUGH BALM is healing, soothing and expectorating. The extraordinary power it possesses in immediately relieving, and eventually curing, the most obstinate cases of Coughs, Colds, whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Influenza, Catarrh, Hoarseness, Asthma, and Consumption, is almost incredible. So prompt is the relief and certain its effects in all the above cases, or any affection of the throat and lungs, that thousands of physicians are daily prescribing it, and one and all say that it is the most healing and expectorating medicine known. It does always afford relief, and in most cases one bottle effect a cure. Sold by druggists, in large bottles. Price One Dollar. It is your own fault if you still cough and suffer. The Balm will cure.

Wine of Life.

The Great Blood Purifier and Delicious Drink! WARNER'S WINE OF LIFE, or WINE OF LIFE, is free from any poisonous drugs or impurities, being prepared for those who require a stimulant. It is a splendid appetizer and tonic, and the finest thing in the world for purifying the blood. It is most pleasant and delicious article ever offered to the public, far superior to brandy, whisky, wine, bitters or any other article. It is more healthy, and cheaper. Both male and female, young or old, can take the Wine of Life. It is, in fact, a life preserver. Those who wish to enjoy good health and a free flow of lively spirits, will do well to take the Wine of Life. It is different from any thing ever before in use. It is sold by druggists, also at all respectable saloons. Price One Dollar, in quart bottles.

Emmenagogue.

WARNER'S EMMENAGOGUE is the only article known to cure the Whites (if it will cure in every case). Where is the family in which this important medicine is not wanted? Mothers, this is the greatest blessing ever offered you, and you should immediately procure it. It is also a sure cure for Female Irregularities, and may be depended upon in every case where the monthly flow has been obstructed, through cold or disease. Sold by druggists. Price One Dollar. Or sent by mail on receipt of One Dollar and a Quarter.

RUN OFF.

This is to give notice that a man calling himself Daniel Bailey, about 45 years of age, and heavy set, left my employ on Tuesday night last, in my debt, and persuaded another man by the name of Anderson Bailey and Catherine Johnson to accompany him. He went off in the night largely in debt to myself as well as to others. He feigned sickness for a day or two before leaving. He came from North Carolina, and lived formerly in Jessamine. Any one employing him, will find him plausible in address, but one of the greatest scoundrels in the country. My object in advertising said Bailey is to prevent others from being imposed on as I have been.

CYNTHIANA NEWS.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1870.

LOCAL MATTER.

Home Fire Insurance Company,

I insured my house in the above Company. It was destroyed by fire, and my policy was paid. The public will find this a good company to insure with.

J. W. Lacy, is the Agent at this place.

Church of the Advent-Prot-

The Rt. Rev. Geo. D. Cummins, D. D., Assistant Bishop of the Diocese will visit the parish next week, and will (D. v.) preach on Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 3rd and 4th at 7 o'clock.

The Mite Society, in consequence will meet on Tuesday evening Nov. 1st, instead of Friday evening, at the residence of C. B. Cook, Esq., at 7 o'clock.

Burglars.

Last Saturday night week, the house of J. A. Cook, Esq., of this city, was entered by Burglars and a lot of Bonds taken. A Jail Bond of $1,000, and coupons attached, on Hamilton county, Minnesota, and a Water Company Bond, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, for $500, with coupons attached. Mr. Cook, will give a good reward for the return of the Bonds, and no questions will be asked.

Sale of Corn.

Mr. Geo. W. Taylor, of this county, sold and shipped six thousand barrels of corn last week to a firm in Cincinnati. A big corn trade.

Cattle Sale.

Mr. J. C. Cromwell sold some 20 head of cattle to Mr. Hume, of Bourbon, last Monday at 67 cents.

Some Sheep.

Thos. V. Ashbrook, of this city, sold to J. D. Mercer, of Zanesville, Ohio, a thoroughbred Cotswold Buck, which weighed 237 pounds. Who can produce a larger one?

Pretty Girls.

Last Friday night, two passenger car loads of Pretty Girls, were carried from Covington to Paris, their home. They had been down to the Exposition. It was a gay little party. Think of it—two car loads.

A Big Sweet Potatoe.

S. B. Cook, of this city, is the owner of a very large sweet potatoe. It weighs 9 pounds. If there are any larger than this, it has not been made known. It was raised by Allen Kiser, of Kiser's Station.

A Snake.

Mr. Abijah Williams, a very responsible and truthful man, who resides in Clayville, asserts that he saw and fought a large brown skinned Snake, which he says was a monster, its body was as large around as one of S. B. Curran's Nail Kegs. He saw it in a cliff below Clayville, on Licking River. It makes a noise like the suppressed bellowing of a Bull. For the last thirty years, the people of that section of Harrison, have reported a monster snake, and many who have not seen it, have heard and been frightened by its howl. We hope our Clayville friends will keep an eye out for him, and if he should show himself again, and enough people could not be gathered in that region to capture his snake-ship, just give us notice, and we will memorialize the Governor, that the entire State Militia may be concentrated on Main Licking, that he may be captured and killed, that the people in and about that country may have peace and quietness.

Renovation.

How often do we come in contact with persons who are always complaining of ill health! They never feel well; are either weak, delirious, nervous, or have no appetite. We would say to this class, procure a bottle of Hoofland's German Bitters, use it according to the directions, and you will soon be restored to health and vigor. For sale by all druggists. They are not a beverage.

The Oldest Lady.

Mr. Dickey, Deputy U. S. Marshall, for this county, reports to us that Mrs. Mary Kellogg, of this county, has attained the extraordinary age of one hundred and six years; and even at this extreme old age she is in good health, good spirits, and can when she pleases, do as much work as any young woman of twenty-two years. The old Lady has taken care of herself all her life long. She has a prospect of 20 or 30 years before her yet.

A Large Yearling Steer.

F. G. Craig, of this county, has on his Farm a yearling steer, which weighs 1,400 pounds. This is the largest in the State for its age.

Town Talk.

Since our last issue, politics in Cynthiana has not been mentioned. Mr. H. A. Pollmeyer has opened his new Saloon on Pike Street, and is having a big run. He advertises his old whisky.

Mr. James Thompson, called to see us last Monday. He has just returned from Fayette, Mo., where he has been residing since last Spring. He has taken up his residence in Leesburg, as heretofore. He informs us that crops in Missouri look well.

Henry Thomas, of Bourbon, was in town last Monday. He is hearty. There are three empty business houses on Pike Street for rent.

The Quarterly Court of Harrison county, was in session last Monday. Corn is held at $2.50 per bushel. We advise people to buy cattle and hogs and feed them until they are fat.

Beef in Cynthiana is worth 16¢. In Covington it sells for 10¢, 12¢, and 15¢ per pound. How is this?

Lard is held at 25¢ per pound in Cynthiana. In Covington the very best brings only 19¢.

Last Monday, Mr. McAdams, of this county, sent his boy Joe A. McAdams to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, at Danville. Joe is a sprightly boy, and can by application make a man of considerable mind.

G. R. Sharpe, was at our office last Monday.

Mr. Ranson, the General Ticket Agent for the Kentucky Central Railroad, is full of enterprise. He has tickets for sale in Cynthiana, for an excursion to Kansas to hunt Buffalo. It won't be long before he will advertise for an excursion round the World, with tickets from Cynthiana.

The new cupola of the Methodist Church contains a Bell. It has recently been put there. A new one should have been put there.

Mr. Sam. Eckler was in town last Saturday. Sam says he has just put up an excellent Dwelling House for Mr. Duke Moore, which he intends to give to his son. Sam is a worthy mechanic, and will come as near doing all he says he will as any man in Harrison.

The good weather for a few days past, has brought many a pretty girl to town, and filled our streets with handsome ladies.

Licking river is too low just now for Steamboat purposes as far up as Cynthiana.

There are more females than males in Lexington. That is the place to get married.

If you have gone half crazy at not having your sweetheart as a wife, remember you might have gone the other half if you had succeeded.

Mr. C. D. Reed, of Dry Ridge, Grant county, was in Cynthiana last week. Mr. R. was born in Bourbon, and raised in Harrison, on the place now owned by Adam Keneker. He was on a visit to his old home.

Mr. C. Kirtly, of Bulletsville, Boone county, Ky., was in Cynthiana week before last. He wants to buy a Farm.

Our excellent fellow-citizen, H. F. Cromwell, has located in Paris, where he proposes to establish himself in the wagon and plow business. We wish him much luck.

Mack January killed four coons and two possums in one tree, last week. Quite a number of our citizens are now in New York city. Among them we might mention T. V. Ashbrook, T. J. Megibben, J. A. Cook, C. B. Cook.

Deputy Sheriff R. Robertson, has been very sick. We are pleased to learn that he is recovering.

Jesse D. Bright, is about to change his residence from Carrollton to Covington.

The matrimonial market is reported brisk in Hickman. The Courier quotes marriageable ladies from 16 to 25 in good demand for far to prime J. Renaker, Jr., has just returned from the East.

We understand that Diphtheria is prevailing in this county.

Harrison Hotel.

This Hotel is now under the control of H. C. Neibel and Lady. These people have been in our city and county many years, and none are more thrifty and enterprising. Mr. Neibel has renovated and refurnished the House in excellent style, and it is one of the most acceptable stopping places in this country. The affable manner in which Mr. N., receives and accommodates his guests is a certain guaranty that the visitors will return.

The culinary department is entirely under the control of Mrs. Neibel, a lady who has but few superiors as a housekeeper. Her Table is furnished with all the delicacies which the market affords, and is served up in a style to suit those who may give the Harrison Hotel their presence. In short this Hotel is worthy the patronage of the public.

Big Hogs.

Mr. C. R. David of Bourbon county, shipped from the Cynthiana Depot a lot of big Hogs, last week. The average weight of 20 of them was 404 pounds. These 20 hogs were among the fattest we have ever seen. One of them weighed 590 pounds. They were raised and fattened by Wm. Gaines, of Fayette county. We understand his hogs are of the Bedford stock, and that he now has on hand about 100 of the finest shoats in Kentucky.

[From the Frankfort Yeoman, Massachusetts, 1870.]

One of the latest sensations in New England is the death of a school mistress at the hands of her pupils. The dispatch from Boston, which chronicles the affair, says:

Miss Etta E. Barston, a school teacher in Canton, Mass., died to-day from a brutal assault with stones made upon her on Wednesday last by four of her scholars, named James Cogswell, Jeremiah and Daniel Keller, and John Coffey, who have been arrested for murder. Miss Barston was twenty years old and in poor health.

We find the intelligence in the New York Herald of last Sunday following a good dispatch from Boston, giving, as good Sabbath reading, the particulars of a case in which a fond mother, the widow of a deceased soldier wearing of life first sent her son, twelve years old, ahead of her to the realms of rest by cutting his throat with a razor, and then started herself on a similar journey by the same process. All of this, in the good and saintly land of the Puritans, and, as our Radicals have the way of expressing it, almost under the very nose of the Governor of the State, whose duty it is to protect the lives of its citizens, and who keeps a standing army for the supposed purpose. And yet we hear of no calling out of the militia of the district in which these outrages occurred; and what is quite as strange, there is no extraordinary excitement in Massachusetts. Such things can happen there and are taken as matters of ordinary occurrence. There is no political necessity to misrepresent the facts or inferences. But had the former occurred in Kentucky or any Southern State, all New England would have been aroused, and Gen. Grant would have had a hundred demands to send Federal troops at once to the scene of the brutal murder. Imagine what would be the effect of the announcement that a Yankee school mistress in one of our Kentucky counties had been killed by her scholars. Would not every loyal paper in the land, from the New York Tribune to the Frankfort Commonwealth, make it the text of a sermon on Democratic misrule, disloyal malignity, and Ku Klux barbarity? Such an occurrence happening here just before the elections, would be of incalculable value to the Radical party, and if four boys could be found in the State vile enough to duplicate the Canton tragedy, almost any female school teacher from Massachusetts might feel alarm for her safety. It is true, we have never known anything quite as bad as this to be done by the Radicals in Kentucky for political effect though we have more than once suspected that outrages have been procured to be committed upon negroes, so as to lay the blame on Democrats, and to get up a cry of Ku Klux. In South Carolina they have reduced the matter to a science, and have organized such a system of co-operative murder for political effect, that material for Ku Klux complaints will always be on hand, as will be seen by the following circular, which we find going the rounds of the Southern papers, as having been lately put out by a secret council of the Loyal League. In reading it we have been led to question whether there has not been a similar arrangement made in this State to supply the deficiency of dull times in the Ku Klux market. The idea is the most diabolical we ever heard of, but Radicalism stops at nothing in the South or North to carry its ends:

[CONFIDENTIAL CIRCULAR.]

Comrades—The Radical cause is in danger. The Reform party is gaining rapidly. Our party is being divided in different sections. Nothing but a tremendous effort, with the whole Radical party united as one man, can save the party from defeat. We must gain the election this fall, or our party is irrevocably annihilated. We must save our cause, although we may be called upon to sacrifice the lives of some of our best men to carry the point. Remember Randolph, the martyr of his own party; it was his foul murder being charged to Democrats that saved the State to General Scott two years ago. We must win again, if we have to sacrifice the lives of a score of our prominent leaders. The question naturally presents itself as to how we shall determine who to offer up. I know of no better plan than this: Let all the leagues in each county appoint five delegates from each league, to meet at some central point in the county, and let it be the duty of these delegates to select one prominent colored man of the party in the county for a special and important purpose, to be made known to him by the Governor at the proper time. Let the name of each man thus selected be reported to the Governor, whose duty it shall be to make the necessary steps through the constabulary force to have him put to death in some secret place, and let the crime be charged to the Reform party. This plan will unite the negroes for the Radicals, and the day will be ours. This plan will be known to our prominent white members of the Union League party in each county, and it is expected that the greatest caution and secrecy will be observed, and that the plan will be carried out about the 20th of September. This plan meets the entire approval of the Secret Council, and is signed by the initials of the committee appointed to write the circular.

BOTANIC DOCTRESS!

ROOT AND BERR EXCLUSIVELY

Maame Maynet may be consulted by RY THURSDAY, at Mrs. Bentz' New Building on Pike street, Cynthiana, Ky., upon chronic diseases of the Female.

She causes the blind to see, the deaf to hear, and lame to walk.

The Doctress has practiced medicine over 15 years, and during that time has had remarkable success in the most obstinate chronic cases.

Many of her different compounds are truly wonderful INDIAN REMEDIES. They have astonishing effect and relieve in cases where all other medicines fail.

Her medicines remove FEVER and AGUE so that it will never return. Gives Mercury for any Disorder. Diseases may be compared to a tree, its limbs, its branches, and all but the roots may be removed, having the appearance that all is destroyed, yet the roots will again spring up, showing the Foundation is not destroyed. Just so with disease—some will give a medicine to smooth over disease, while the roots are left remaining in the System, and will again spring up.

The Doctress gives at first a compound of ingredients, the only preparation in the wide world that has ever been discovered which can break up the roots of disease, the patient gaining strength every day while taking. After having given the first to break up the roots of disease, she next gives another kind of medicine to remove disease entirely from the system. Some of these medicines are a Wonderful Discovery of the age, and are not found in possession of any Druggist, or in the lists of any Dispensary in the United States.

All those who are afflicted with Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Asthma, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Deafness, Tumors, Gravel, Canker, Disery, Palsy, Coughs, Colds, Consumptive Complaints, Indigestion, Rush of Blood to the Head, Nervous Affections, Weakness in the Back, Pain in the side, Piles, Palpitation of the Heart, Pleurisy, Ulcers, sores, Scrofula, Sciatica, Leprosy, Erysipelas, all complaints peculiar to Females, Weakness, General Debility, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Disease of the Eyes and Head, Cutaneous Affections, all Impurities of the Blood, and many disease is best to go to the Doctress to get to the root and be healed.
